USGA INTERNATIONAL GOLF CLUB OR COURSE APPLICATION

An international subscriber to the United States Golf Association receives a sample of benefits similar to a USGA member course. An international subscriber may be any club or course outside the fifty states, including US military establishments. USGA international subscribership is a distinct classification of affiliation. Regular USGA membership is limited to golf clubs and courses in the United States. International subscribers have no voting rights. International subscribers cannot obtain services from the USGA Rules and Competitions Department nor can they purchase additional rules materials (except in Mexico). Educational material concerning USGA Handicaps may only be purchased through licensed foreign country associations.
