Yealimi Noh Wins the 2018 Championship

The longest day of the year in the Northern Hemisphere – commonly called the Summer Solstice – usually occurs on June 21. After what occurred on Saturday at Poppy Hills Golf Course, U.S. Girls' Junior finalists Yealimi Noh, 16, of Concord, Calif., and Alexa Pano, 13, of Lake Worth, Fla., might offer a different viewpoint.

Exactly a month after the solstice, Noh played 49 holes of high-intensity golf in claiming the fog-plagued championship with a 4-and-3 victory over Pano.

Fittingly, thick fog rolled in not long after the championship match was decided.

It is believed to be the most holes of golf ever played on the final day of a USGA championship dating to 1895, the year the Association began conducting national championships.

Due to the nearly 16 hours of fog delays this week, including 30 minutes on Saturday morning, the USGA came up with a revised schedule on Friday that called for the semifinals and the first 18 of the scheduled 36-hole championship match to be contested on Saturday, with the final 18 spilling over to Sunday morning.

But when players inquired about getting the entire 36-hole final done on Saturday, the USGA discussed the idea and offered both finalists an option. Noh and Pano are both headed to different competitions next week – Pano to the Wyndham Cup, a Ryder Cup-style competition that starts on Monday at Old Sandwich Club in Plymouth, Mass.; and Noh to the Canadian Women's Amateur in British Columbia – and mutually agreed to play as much golf as possible to avoid an extra day of play.

It's a decision neither competitor regretted in hindsight, even if Pano had to play 51 holes on Saturday.

By winning the championship, Noh also earned an exemption into the 2019 U.S. Women's Open at the Country Club of Charleston in South Carolina.

"I mean, it really hasn't sunk in yet," said Noh of becoming a USGA champion. "It's been such a long day, too, I just haven't gotten a chance to fully realize what this all means, but it really means a lot to me. And to be able to win it right after [the Girls] Junior PGA [Championship], which is a really big accomplishment of mine. I knew I could do it, but I was a little unsure because I haven't always had the best results in match play.

"It's just amazing, and especially the timing. I recently decommitted from UCLA and I told everyone I'm going to go pro [sometime in 2019], and a lot of people didn't think it was a good idea. Just having this win and last week's stroke play win and then a match-play win, it means so much to me because I feel like I've kind of at least a little bit proven that I can do it."

Noh, who won last week's Girls Junior PGA Championship in Lexington, Ky., with a record-24-under total of 264, recovered from an early 2-down deficit – the first time in six matches she fell behind by more than one hole – by winning three consecutive holes from No. 8 with birdies, two of which were par-5s. She drained a 20-foot uphill putt on No. 8, then reached the 514-yard ninth in two with a 3-hybrid from 240 yards, and adroitly two-putted for birdie. She was forced to lay up on the par-5 10th after a poor drive, but she knocked her third shot to 13 feet, which she converted.

Noh closed out the first 18 by hitting her 3-hybrid from 206 yards on the par-5 hole to 25 feet. Her eagle putt stopped 18 inches short of the hole for a conceded birdie. When Pano failed to convert from 10 feet, Noh had a 4-up lead at the break. Noh carded a 4-under 67 – with match-play concessions – to Pano's even-par 71.

Momentum continued for Noh in the second 18 as she birdied Nos. 22 and 23 for a 6-up advantage. Pano did get two holes back with winning pars on Nos. 30 and 32, but Noh two-putted from 36 feet on the par-4 33rd hole to close out the match nearly 12 hours after play began.

"She played really solid the whole day," said Pano of Noh. "I think in the beginning I was just making some birdies, and she had some advantages on the par-5s being able to be longer and to have easier shots into the greens. But I mean, overall, she just killed it the whole week and played insanely well. I can't really complain with even par or one under and losing."

In a semifinal match on Saturday morning between two past Drive, Chip & Putt national champions, Pano eliminated medalist and No. 1 seed Lucy Li, 15, of Redwood Shores, Calif., 1 up. The match was all square going to 18 when Pano, putting first, rolled in an 8-footer for birdie. Li, a member of the victorious 2018 USA Curtis Cup Team, had a chance to force extra holes, but missed her slightly uphill 7-footer on the low side.

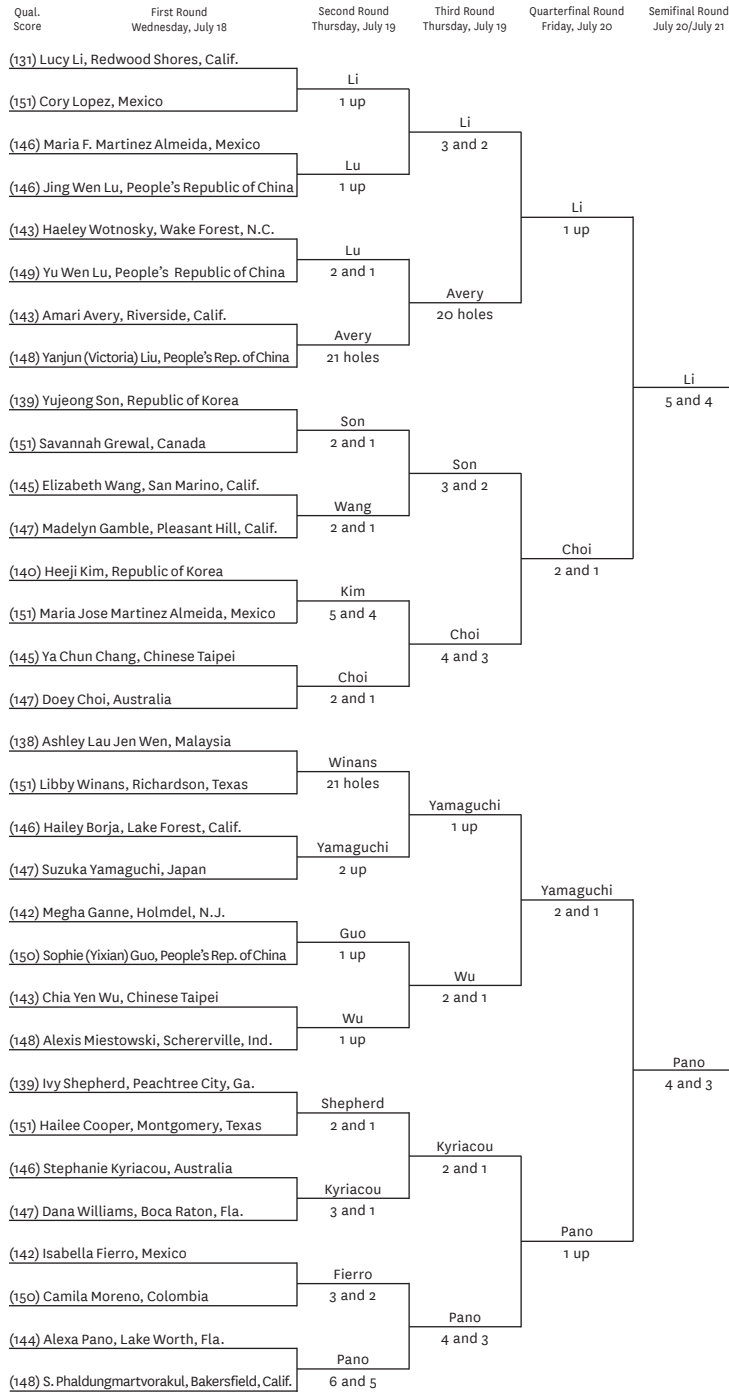

Noh, meanwhile, defeated incoming Duke University freshman Gina Kim, 18, of Chapel Hill, N.C., 3 and 2. Noh played bogey-free golf with four birdies in the 16-hole match.

NOTABLE

Pano, the runner-up, receives a three-year exemption into the U.S. Girls' Junior and a silver medal; bronze medals were awarded to semifinalists Lucy Li and Gina Kim Pano was bidding to become the fourth 13-year-old to win the U.S. Girls' Junior. She would have been the fourth-youngest champion behind Aree Song Wongluekiet (1999), Lexi Thompson (2008) and Jenny Shin (2006).

Championship History

The U.S. Girls' Junior Championship was established in 1949, one year after the U.S. Junior Amateur Championship. Philadelphia (Pa.) Country Club, one of the oldest golf courses in the nation, was the host club for the USGA's newest championship. The club's Bala Course was constructed in 1891, three years before the birth of the USGA.

The inaugural Girls' Junior drew a starting field of 28 girls from 17 states, although 10 of the players were from the Philadelphia area.

More impressive than the size of the field or the styles of play was the wonderful spirit and sportsmanship the contestants brought to the game, and their complete lack of pretense.

The first champion, 15-year-old Marlene Bauer, came all the way from Los Angeles to win her first national golf title. While golf for girls beyond the club level was still a novelty, Bauer had been encouraged by her father, a golf professional, since the age of 3. Her victory in the first Girls' Junior was the springboard for a long and distinguished career.

The championship has also helped launch the careers of such outstanding players as Mickey Wright, who won in 1952 and later captured four U.S. Women's Open Championships, and JoAnne Gunderson Carner, who won the first of her eight USGA titles in the 1956 Girls' Junior. Nancy Lopez won in 1972 and 1974, interrupted in 1973 by Amy Alcott, who went on to win the Women's Open in 1980.

Considering the brevity and time limitations on a junior golf career, Hollis Stacy's record of three consecutive Girls' Junior Championships, from 1969 to 1971, is among the most remarkable accomplishments in USGA history. Stacy, however, never made it easy. The final matches of her first two championships went 18 holes. In her last victory, in 1971, Stacy needed 4-under-par golf to eventually defeat Alcott at the 19th hole. From the third through the 17th holes, neither player made a bogey; between them they made nine birdies. The match is regarded as one of the finest in USGA history.

With her last victory, Stacy became only the seventh golfer to win USGA championships in three successive years. She later won the Women's Open Championship in 1977, 1978 and 1984.

Kay Cornelius, the 1981 winner, is among the noteworthy champions. Her mother, Kathy Cornelius, won the 1956 U.S. Women's Open. They remain the only mother-daughter tandem to have captured USGA championships.

While victory in the U.S. Girls' Junior by no means guarantees a successful career in women's golf, Girls' Junior champions have won the Women's Amateur 11 times and the Women's Open 12 times. Furthermore, 19 Girls' Junior champions have gone on to represent the USA on the Curtis Cup Team through 2018, including such names as Heather Farr, Gunderson Carner, Lopez, Stacy and Lexi Thompson.
