ARCHITECT

Opened in 2002, Dalhousie Golf Club's course was designed by Nicklaus Design, with Gary Nicklaus as the principal architect. The course occupies land originally settled in 1798 by Scottish immigrant Rebecca Ramsey, sister of the Earl of Dalhousie.

WHO CAN ENTER

All states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico are eligible to enter three-player teams. The only players ineligible to participate are those currently on a college team, per NCAA rules. The final field is comprised of 50 teams, including 49 states and the District of Columbia. Vermont and Puerto Rico did not enter teams.

SCHEDULE

Fifty-four holes of stroke play are scheduled for Sept. 10-12 with the two lowest scores of the three individual rounds counting as the team's score for the round. The team with the lowest aggregate score through all 54 holes is the champion. If there is a tie after the final round, the score from the team's non-scoring player is used to break the deadlock. If the score remains tied, the second-round score from the non-scoring player is used.

For the first time in 2015, there will be a 36-hole cut that reduces the field to the 21 lowest-scoring teams, plus ties. In addition, any individual player who is within five strokes of the individual lead, but whose team has missed the 36-hole cut, will advance to Saturday's final round, remaining in contention for the individual medal.

Sept. 10 (Thursday) – First round, 18 holes of stroke play
Sept. 11 (Friday) – Second round, 18 holes of stroke play (field reduced to 21 teams, plus ties)
Sept. 12 (Saturday) – Third round, 18 holes of stroke play

THE TROPHY

The USGA Women's State Team Championship began in 1995. In 1998, the trophy was named the Judy Bell Trophy in honor of the USGA's first female president, Judy Bell, who served from 1996-97.

CHAMPIONSHIP HISTORY

This is the 11th USGA Women's State Team Championship. The competition, as well as the Men's State Team Championship, grew out of the USGA's centennial celebration in 1995. USGA officials believed a new championship, one in which each state could be represented by amateur, non-college golfers, was an appropriate way to cap the USGA's yearlong birthday celebration. Deemed a success, the USGA has continued to conduct the championship biennially.

The format was fashioned after the biennial World Amateur Team Championship, which involves three-person teams in a 3-count-2 stroke-play format. State associations were given a variety of options in which to select its team members. The inaugural Women's State Team Championship drew teams from 43 states. In 2013, a record 52 teams representing all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, participated at NCR Country Club in Kettering, Ohio.

In 2010, the USGA decided to alternate years for the Men's and Women's State Team Championship, with the men playing in even-numbered years and the women in odd years.

2013 CHAMPION

Led by 17-year-old Alice Chen, New Jersey captured a three-stroke victory over Florida in the 2013 USGA Women's State Team Championship contested at NCR Country Club's South Course in Kettering, Ohio. Chen, along with reinstated amateur and team captain Tara Fleming, 46, of Jersey City and Cindy Ha, 17, of Demarest, posted a 54-hole total of 8-over-par 446 in the 3-count-2 team format.

This was New Jersey's first USGA Women's State Team victory, topping a previous best of seventh in 2011.

A Princeton native, Chen shared medalist honors with fellow 17-year-old Bryana Nguyen, of Columbia, Md. Their 6-under 213s tie the low mark held by Brenda Corrie Kuehn of North Carolina (1997), Marla Jemsek-Weeks of Florida (1997) and Candace Schepperle of Alabama (2005).
