2015 Conditions of Play

The Teams

All states and the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico may enter teams of three players. Entries are open to female amateur golfers whose permanent residence is in the state they represent and who have been nominated by the USGA-designated state or regional golf association. College golfers are not eligible under NCAA rules.

Format

54 holes of stroke play; 18 holes played on each of three days.

Scoring

In each round, the total of the two lowest scores by players on each team constitutes the team score for the round. The three-day total is the team's score for the championship.

Schedule of Play

Tuesday, Sept. 10 — First round (18 holes)

Wednesday, Sept. 11 — Second round (18 holes)

Thursday, Sept. 12 — Third round (18 holes)

New Jersey Wins the 2013 Championship

Led by a record-setting three days from 17-year-old Alice Chen, New Jersey captured a three-stroke victory over Florida at the 2013 USGA Women's State Team Championship, conducted at the par-73, 6,153-yard South Course at NCR Country Club. It is the state's first victory in the 10 times the championship has been contested, besting a previous high of seventh in 2011.

"To be in this position right now was not even in my scope of reference," said New Jersey's playing captain Tara Fleming, 46, of Jersey City. "These young ladies are such great players and it's just a thrill to be in their company."

Chen tied the championship's single-round, 36-hole and 54-hole scoring records and helped her team to a 54-hole score of 8-over 446. Florida returned an 11-over 449, followed by a surging Virginia at 12-over 450. First-round leader Arizona finished fourth at 13-over 451, with Maryland rounding out the top five at 16-over 454.

Chen, of Princeton, shared medalist honors with fellow 17-year-old Bryana Nguyen, of Columbia, Md. Their 6-under 213s tied the low mark held by Brenda Corrie Kuehn, of North Carolina (1997), Marla Jemsek-Weeks, of Florida (1997) and Candace Schepperle, of Alabama (2005).

New Jersey withstood an early, final-round charge from Arizona, which at one point was 4 under par for the day and held the lead at six over. But Chen and teammate Cindy Ha kept thinking back to the sage advice that they received from Fleming during a practice round the previous week at New Jersey National Golf Club.

"We wanted to finish within the top seven, because New Jersey finished seventh two years ago," said Chen, a high school senior who will attend Furman University in the fall of 2014. "But after that was brought up, the entire time we just wanted to have fun. You're going to play good if you have fun. Those were Tara's wise words."

New Jersey's patience, combined with Arizona's slide to a 3-over-par total for the day, brought the Judy Bell Trophy to New Jersey for the first time. Chen returned a 1-over 74 on Thursday, her highest score of the championship. Ha bounced back from an 81 on Wednesday to card her personal championship-best round of 2-over 75, while Fleming added a non-scoring 82.

Ha, 17, of Demarest, opened with four bogeys in her first six holes. As the only member of New Jersey's 2011 squad to return to the team competition, she knew that there was more riding on her shoulders than just her own performance.

"I told myself to snap out of it. You've got to get it together for your team, not for yourself," said Ha, who carded four birdies to two bogeys over her final 12 holes. "I had a really good comeback. I was just in a better mental state."

"I'm really proud of Cindy after yesterday's round," said Fleming, a reinstated amateur who returned to competitive golf in 2012 after a 16-year hiatus. "She really pulled it together today and without her this wouldn't have happened."

Florida, which came into the final round tied for the lead with New Jersey, never quite found a groove on Thursday. Four-time U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur champion Meghan Stasi, 35, of Oakland Park, returned the team's low round of 1-over 74, while Tara Joy-Connelly, 40, of Palm Beach Gardens, added a 5-over 78. Ericka Schneider, 22, of Bradenton, returned a non-counting 80.

"I should have been a lot better today," said Stasi. "I had two bad three-putts and a couple par 5s that I should have definitely done a lot better on. But I made an eagle (at the 16th hole), so that was fun."

"I got off hot today, was two under through four, and just leaked one, leaked one, so a little disappointed with my 78," added Joy-Connelly, who was competing in her first State Team for Florida, having previously represented Massachusetts. "The week was great, my teammates were great. A pleasure to be with."

Nguyen and Oklahoma's Jade Staggs returned 3-under 70s on Thursday, the lowest rounds of the day. Chen's 67 on Wednesday was the lowest round of the championship and tied the 18-hole mark shared by three others.

"I just came in with an open mind thinking I could score on this course," said Nguyen, who will attend the University of North Carolina in the fall of 2014. "This is the lowest (cumulative score) I've ever shot in a tournament. I'm really proud of it."

Two-time defending champion Georgia finished seventh and never seriously threatened to capture a fourth championship.

2013 Championship Notes

Leaders

Round 1 — Arizona, at 2-under 144 (Hannah O'Sullivan 71, Stephanie Kim 73), by two strokes over Florida (Meghan Stasi 73, Tara Joy-Connelly 73). Round 2 — New Jersey (Alice Chen 67, Tara Fleming 79) and Florida (Stasi 75, Ericka Schneider 76) at 5-over 297, by five strokes over Arizona (O'Sullivan 73, Kim 85).

Weather

Sunny on Tuesday and Wednesday, with temperatures in the upper 60s and low 70s. Play was suspended at 8:28 a.m. on Thursday due to dangerous weather conditions, with play resuming at 9:20 a.m.

Notes

Due to the potential for inclement weather, a 36-hole cut was implemented following Wednesday's second round, with 27 of 52 teams returning on Thursday to complete 54 holes ... The youngest player in the championship field was Aneka Seumanutafu, 12, of Kapolei, Hawaii. The championship's oldest competitor was Robyn Puckett, 66, of Irvine, Calif. Coincidentally, they played in the same grouping in the first two rounds ... The team with the youngest average age was Hawaii (15). The oldest team was Alaska (65.33) ... For the first time in championship history, all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico fielded teams. In 2007 and 2011, 51 teams participated ... There were three USGA champions in the field: Amber Marsh Elliott, 44, of Greensboro, N.C. (2003 U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur); Mina Hardin, 53, of Fort Worth, Texas (2010 U.S. Senior Women's Amateur); and Meghan Stasi, 35, of Oakland Park, Fla. (2006, 2007, 2010, 2012 U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur) ... Laura Coble, 49, of Augusta, Ga., was the only player in the field to have won a USGA Women's State Team. She was a member of Georgia's winning teams in 2005, 2009 and 2011 ... Hardin competed in the 1986 U.S. Women's Open held at NCR Country Club ... There was one mother/daughter combination in the field: Cissy and Kathleen Gallagher, of Greenwood, Miss. Additionally, Janice Calomiris and her niece, Alexa Calomiris, represented the District of Columbia ... Susan Marchese, of Omaha, Neb., played in her 10th USGA Women's State Team Championship. She is the only player to compete in all 10 championships.

Championship History

The USGA Women's State Team Championship, in 1995, like the men's version, grew out of the celebration of the Association's Centennial and was fashioned after the biennial World Amateur Team Championship.

Each state was invited to send its three best players, and 43 states sent women's teams to compete for the new title at the Lake Buena Vista (Fla.) Club. State associations were given the option to choose their teams by any method, with one restriction: college players were ineligible because of NCAA bylaws. The NCAA rule states that a player may only play in an international team match when that team is sponsored by the national governing body, such as the Curtis Cup, or the Women's World Amateur Team Championship. Any infraction of that rule means the college player is faced with being declared ineligible for the remainder of the season and the following season.

As a result, the field for the Women's State Team Championship was made up almost entirely of mid-amateur and senior players. Some states used a point system to select the three-woman team. Others used the top finishers in their state championships or conducted qualifying tournaments. A few states employed a selection committee to determine team members.

Just as in the Women's World Amateur Team Championship, the Women's State Team Championship format meant that only the best two scores of each state's three players were counted on each of three days.

The winning team in the inaugural championship was from Pennsylvania and was made up of Liz Haines, of Gladwyne, Judy Oliver, of Sewickley, and Carol Semple Thompson, also of Sewickley. Oliver and Thompson have both played for the United States of America in the Curtis Cup Match. The competition was close, as Pennsylvania's score of 442 edged the Texas team by only one stroke.

While no individual prizes were awarded, Toni Wiesner, of Fort Worth, Texas, and Lancy Smith, of Snyder, N.Y., recorded the lowest individual scores. Each scored 219 for 54 holes, 3 over par.

The first Women's State Team Championship proved to be such a popular competition that the decision was made to conduct the championship every two years. Georgia holds the most titles with three (2005, 2009, 2011), and Laura Coble has been a member of all three victorious teams.
