Lara Tennant Wins the 2018 Championship

Lara Tennant arrived at Orchard Island Golf & Beach Club having won just one match in a USGA amateur championship in eight starts. Thanks to a week of solid ball-striking and coolness under pressure, the 51-year-old Portland, Ore., resident will be leaving as the 57th U.S. Senior Women’s Amateur champion. Tennant never trailed on Thursday, defeating Sue Wooster, 56, of Australia, 3 and 2, in the 18-hole championship match.

Tennant was able to build a cushion on the back nine by taking advantage of some late miscues by Wooster. Leading 3 up through 12 holes, Tennant found trouble on the par-5 13th, and settled for a conceded bogey. With the door open to pull closer, Wooster three-putted from 40 feet to keep Tennant’s lead at 3 up. On the next hole, Wooster hit her approach shot from 146 yards just over the green and chipped to 8 feet. After Tennant missed a birdie try from 18 feet, Wooster wasn’t able to convert her par putt, putting Tennant 4 up with 4 holes to play.

Nerves might have played a role coming down the stretch for Tennant, the No. 10 seed in match play. Safely on the green with her tee shot on the par-3 15th hole, she watched as Wooster lagged her lengthy birdie try to 3 feet, effectively giving Tennant two putts to win the match. However, she left her first putt from 40 feet 18 feet short, and she couldn’t make her par save. Wooster made par to extend the match and win her only hole of the day. Tennant found herself in a similar position on the following hole, the par-4 16th, when she hit her approach shot from the right rough to about 35 feet past the hole from 125 yards. She had no issues with her lag putting this time, cozying it up to concession range and sealing the victory.

Tennant led from the outset in the final, rolling in a 12-foot birdie try on No. 1. Her lead could have been even larger had Wooster, who struggled with her putter most of the day, not made a 40-foot, downhill birdie putt on the third hole. Tennant, who had hit her approach shot from 125 yards to 9 feet, rolled in her birdie try to halve the hole. After seven straight halved holes, Tennant took a 2-up lead at the turn when she made a 20-foot downhill putt to save par on No. 9 after Wooster couldn’t get up and down from the bunker fronting the green.

NOTABLE

As the runner-up, Wooster receives an exemption into the 2019 U.S. Senior Women’s Open, as well as a three-year exemption into the U.S. Senior Women’s Amateur and exemptions into the 2019 U.S. Women’s Amateur and U.S. Women’s Mid-Amateur.

Tennant became the ninth alumnus of the University of Arizona to win a USGA championship, and the first since Annika Sorenstam won the 2006 U.S. Women’s Open. Others include Ricky Barnes (2002 U.S. Amateur) and Jim Furyk (2003 U.S. Open).

With the usual match-play concessions, Tennant was even par over 16 holes on Thursday and Wooster was 3 over par.

Tennant’s father, George Mack, 78, served as her caddie throughout the week. Mack has played in five USGA championships, including the 1990 U.S. Senior Open and 1996 U.S. Senior Amateur.

QUOTABLE

Tennant on what set the tone for her week: “I think what gave me confidence is my second nine on the second day of [stroke play]. I was the last tee time, the wind was blowing, it rained four times, and I shot 35 on this side. That gave me a boost of confidence that, OK, I can play this golf course, even under the toughest conditions.”

Tennant, on how her approach changed once she built a lead on the back nine: “You start thinking about just parring in and letting your opponent play really well to beat you. So I wasn’t as aggressive in my approach shots. I made sure on No. 16 I had plenty of club to get over the water. You just play a little more defensive, smarter golf.”

Tennant, on what made the difference in her success this week compared to previous USGA championships: “I would say except for last year, all of the other USGA championships I played in, I probably prepared two weeks before. With five kids I was never prepared like I am now. Since I turned 50 I was able to have the time to prepare, and I would say I have a new passion for golf. I love to practice, but I have the time to practice.”

Sue Wooster, of Australia, on how she feels about her week: “I’m pretty stoked, you know. Obviously I’m upset I lost because I wanted to win. If you said at the start of the week I would’ve been in the final, I would’ve been over the moon. I’m proud of myself. I think tonight I’ll sit back and feel I did pretty good overall.”

Wooster, on what could have made the difference on Thursday: “I don’t know if I had opportunities to eventually win it, but I could have put some pressure on her and I didn’t. I think I just couldn’t hole the putts today. I was just missing and I was probably just over-reading a bit, and nothing was working. I hit some nice shots in, I just couldn’t capitalize. When I three-putted No. 13, I knocked my chances down a lot. That gave her a breather.”

Wooster, on being exempt into the 2019 U.S. Senior Women’s Open: “Well, it was the best tournament I’ve ever played [in 2018] because it was an Open. That’s very special to be able to play in an Open, say you played in an Open.”

Championship History

The U.S. Senior Women's Amateur Championship was inaugurated in 1962 for women golfers age 50 and older.

By the late 1950s, a number of senior women's golf organizations had been formed, principally to conduct tournaments, but there was no existing tournament to determine the national champion. The USGA was requested to step in, and in January 1962, the Executive Committee approved such a competition.

In its own quiet way, senior women's golf has flourished over the years. Several major competitions have sprung up throughout the country, and with the expansion of women's golf, the number of quality senior players has increased dramatically. Many women, age 50 and over, for the first time find they have the requisite time for top-level competitive golf. Additionally, some of the nation's finest amateurs have advanced into this age group and still seek to test their talent and experience on a championship level. Many women who enter these competitions also have been instrumental in the development of women's golf in this country, encouraging younger players and conducting tournaments at all levels.

The first Senior Women's Amateur Championship, in 1962 at the Manufacturers' Golf and Country Club in Oreland, Pa., was a stroke-play showdown of two longtime rivals. Maureen Orcutt, a four-time Curtis Cup player, finished with a 54-hole score of 240, seven strokes ahead of Glenna Collett Vare. In the 1920s and 1930s, Vare reigned as this country's finest woman player with a record six victories in the U.S. Women's Amateur.

Great players of the past have thus far dominated the Senior Women's Amateur. Carolyn Cudone, another former Curtis Cup Team member, won the championship five times in succession between 1968 and 1972.

Dorothy Porter won four Senior Women's Amateur Championships and is one of only four players to have also captured the U.S. Women's Amateur. In 1993, Anne Sander, the Women's Amateur champion in 1958, 1961 and 1963, won her fourth Senior Women's Amateur.

Marlene Stewart Streit, U.S. Women's Amateur champion in 1956, won the Senior Women's Amateur in 1985, 1994 and 2003, and was runner-up a record five times. The 47-year span between Streit's first and last USGA titles is the longest among all USGA champions.

After 35 years of a stroke-play format, the 1997 championship was the first Senior Women's Amateur to be conducted at match play. It was the last of the USGA's 10 national amateur championships to adopt a match-play format.
