Katrina Prendergast and Ellen Secor Win the 2018 Championship

Just call them the rallying Rams.

Colorado State University golfers Katrina Prendergast, 20, of Sparks, Nev., and Ellen Secor, 20, of Portland, Ore., erased a 2-down deficit with four holes to play to defeat Lei Ye, 16, of the People's Republic of China, and Yachun Chang, 17, of Chinese Taipei, 1 up, in the 18-hole final match on a chilly and breezy Wednesday in the San Fernando Valley.

Trailing by two holes on the 15th tee, the side proceeded to win three consecutive holes capped by Prendergast converting a 5-foot birdie putt on the par-5 17th hole for a 1-up lead.

On the 18th green, Ye had one final chance to force extra holes after Secor and Prendergast both missed their birdie chances. But Ye's downhill 7-foot putt slid past the hole on the low side.

An emotional Secor immediately dropped to her knees. Then after congratulating their opponents, the two teammates enjoyed a long and celebratory embrace before their parents joined in.

"I don't know how to describe it," said Secor of becoming a USGA champion. "So many people to thank, so many thoughts running through my mind right now. I think just what keeps recurring is that hard work finally paid off."

Added Prendergast: "Especially so many people backing us up and pulling for us really helped, especially back home. They couldn't be here, but they're still pulling for us no matter what."

Chang, who has signed to play at the University of Arizona this fall, and Ye, who has committed to attend Stanford University in 2019, appeared in control of the see-saw match after winning holes 13 and 14 – the former on Ye's 8-foot birdie and the latter on a 6-foot par putt by Ye – to grab a 2-up advantage.

But walking to the 15th tee, Secor sensed the small gallery pulling for the two international golfers. Secor channeled her emotions and focused even harder.

"That's how she plays," Prendergast said of her teammate. "She gets fired up, and that really helps her, and I think it actually helped me, too. I got pumped up after I made par on 15, and then we got two good shots in on 16. We had the tee, and I think those two shots really helped put pressure on them."

Wayward tee shots by Ye and Chang helped Secor and Prendergast win No. 15 with a par. On the par-3 16th, Secor and Prendergast both found the green, and the former drained a 12-foot birdie putt to square the match for a fifth time.

That set the stage for Prendergast, a junior who is No. 208 in the Women's World Amateur Golf Ranking™. She ripped a drive and reached the 17th green with a 7-iron from 160 yards. Her long eagle putt trickled 5 feet past the hole before she calmly made the comebacker. Secor then screamed, "Catch Ram Fever."

Back in Fort Collins, Colorado State head coach Annie Young was excitedly following online, and immediately texted her two players following the match. Thurman knows the feeling of being a USGA champion, having claimed the 2002 U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links title at Sunriver (Ore.) Resort. She also was a member of the victorious 2004 USA Curtis Cup Team. The three will likely celebrate on the way to NCAA Regionals this weekend in Austin, Texas, where Secor, a sophomore, and Prendergast, a junior, are competing as individuals.

The final began at 1 p.m. with temperatures hovering in the upper 50s and winds gusting to as much as 14 mph. Neither team enjoyed more than a 1-up lead on the outward nine, but Secor, No. 489 in the WAGR, delivered the best shot, lacing a 5-iron tee shot on the 193-yard eighth to within 18 inches. The tap-in birdie squared the match. Prendergast followed by making a 10-foot birdie on the ninth hole for a 1-up advantage at the turn.

A bogey on No. 10 squared the match before Ye and Le pulled ahead by two holes on Nos. 13 and 14.

In the semifinals earlier on Wednesday, Secor and Prendergast shot the equivalent of 5 under par over 16 holes in eliminating reigning U.S. Girls' Junior champion Erica Shepherd, 17, of Greenwood, Ind., and her future Duke University teammate, Megan Furtney, 17, of Chicago, Ill., 3 and 2.

Ye, No. 151 in the WAGR, and Chang, No. 136 in the WAGR, ousted 2015 Drive, Chip & Putt national finalist Leila Dizon, 18, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Irene Kim, 17, of La Palma, Calif., 4 and 3. The two registered six birdies against no bogeys – with the usual match-play concessions – over 15 holes.

NOTABLE

Lei Ye and Yachun Chang were trying to become the first international champions in the short history of the championship. Ye would have become the second USGA champion from the People's Republic of China after Alice (Fumie) Jo claimed the 2014 U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links title. Chang would have been the first player from Chinese Taipei to win a USGA title since Yani Tseng's 2004 U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links victory.

Secor and Prendergast are the second consecutive college teammates to win the Women's Amateur Four-Ball after Furman teammates Taylor Totland and Alice Chen prevailed at The Dunes Golf & Beach Club a year ago.

Championship History

The U.S. Amateur Four-Ball Championships were first played in 2015 but the genesis of these USGA competitions was years in the making.

As part of its mission to provide the best in national championship competition, the USGA began the process of developing and deploying these championships at the suggestion of Chief Executive Officer Mike Davis.

Through extensive research and cooperation from the nation's many state and regional golf associations, the planning and implementation by the USGA's Rules & Competitions department produced a proposal to the Executive Committee, which was passed and ultimately announced at the USGA Annual Meeting in San Diego in 2013.

"We couldn't be more excited about the creation of national four-ball championships, given the popularity and enjoyment of this competitive format at the amateur level," said USGA Vice President and Championship Committee Chairman Thomas J. O'Toole Jr., at the time of the announcement. "Because the four-ball format lends itself to spirited team competition and aggressive risk-reward shotmaking, we are confident these championships will deliver exciting amateur golf to the national stage for both players and spectators alike."

In 2012, more than 150 championships, either strictly four-ball or as part of a competition format, were conducted in all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

The first two sites for each championship were announced in July of 2013: 2015 Four-Ball at The Olympic Club in San Francisco, Calif., and 2016 Four-Ball at Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y. and the 2015 Women's Four-Ball at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort in Bandon, Ore., and the 2016 Women's Four-Ball at Streamsong Resort in Streamsong, Fla.

It marked the first time in 25 years, since the establishment of the U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur in 1987, that the USGA had added a new championship.

The establishment of the Four-Ball championships was first and foremost a reflection of the Association's continued commitment to supporting and growing amateur competition well into the future. A critical factor was that four-ball is a very popular event, not only at the club level, but through our state and regional golf associations who conduct championships like this every year and have for many years.

This format, more than most other formats, promotes camaraderie and perhaps players traveling together. The risk-reward element involved in two balls in play on each hole can produce some exciting golf and likely more birdies and eagles, which is attractive to competitors and viewers.

In the inaugural year, the Four-Ball championships were the first USGA competitions to be televised by the Association's new broadcast partner, Fox Sports, with both championships receiving four hours of live broadcast coverage.
