United States of America Wins the 2018 Match

The Curtis Cup is staying on the American soil in which it was played for this week at Quaker Ridge Golf Club.

A pair of U.S. Women's Amateur champions – Sophia Schubert (2017) and Kristen Gillman (2014) – delivered the decisive points in Sunday's singles matches as the USA rolled to a 17-3 victory over Great Britain and Ireland. It was the largest margin of victory in the history of the biennial competition, which began in 1932.

The Americans entered the final session with a comfortable 9-3 margin and needing only 1½ points to reclaim the Cup it lost in the Republic of Ireland in 2016.

A determined USA Team, which featured six of the top 10 players in the World Amateur Golf Ranking™, punctuated its dominating effort by claiming all eight of Sunday's singles matches.

"I'm very proud of my players," said USA captain Virginia Derby Grimes, who went 3-0 as a player in the Match and now is 1-0 as a captain. "They are a phenomenal group of girls. They've been so much fun to be around, and they just gelled and bonded."

Gillman, whose 5-and-4 victory over 16-year-old Englishwoman Annabell Fuller provided the clinching point, became just the third player to go 5-0-0 since the Match switched from two to three days in 2008.

A few minutes earlier, Schubert, playing in the first match, defeated arguably GB&I's top player, Olivia Mehaffey, 2 and 1. Mehaffey came into Sunday's session with a 2-1-1 mark, but got down early against the recent University of Texas graduate and never recovered. Schubert, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., delivered a clutch approach shot on the par-4 16th hole and won with a par, and then closed out the match with an up-and-down par from a greenside bunker to halve No. 17.

"I was so excited to get out here today," said the 22-year-old Schubert, the USA's oldest player. "I played OK yesterday and the day before, but I was just ready to come out here and play their best player and just show them what I can do."

"[The week has] just been unreal. This has been a dream of mine for a really long time, just to make the Curtis Cup Team and to win a major championship, the U.S. [Women's] Am. So it's been incredible. It's definitely been like a whirlwind, and I've just loved every minute of it."

Gillman, 20, of Austin, Texas, a first-team All-American this past season at the University of Alabama, played the equivalent of 2-under-par golf – with match-play concessions – in her victory. After halving the first three holes, she won three of the next four to take a 3-up lead at the turn. Even though Fuller, the youngest member of the GB&I Team, won the 11th hole with a par, she lost Nos. 10, 12 and 13 and a par on the par-5 14th ended the match.

GB&I had one last chance to earn a half-point in the final match, but Paula Grant, 24, of Northern Ireland, failed to convert a 12-foot par putt on the 18th hole, enabling Mariel Galdiano, one of the USA's two returning players from 2016 (Andrea Lee), to earn a 1-up victory.

"We're obviously very disappointed with the score line and all you can do is congratulate the United States on its win and the very high standard of golf they have played this week," said GB&I captain Elaine Farquharson-Black. "We have played good golf in spells, particularly on the first day, but at this level, you have to have more consistency and at times we've just not performed as well as we would have liked."

NOTABLE

The previous largest margin of victory was 11 points in 1982 at Denver (Colo.) Country Club. Fox Sports golf analyst Juli Inkster, a five-time USGA champion, was a member of that USA Team.

The USA swept a singles session for the first time since 1990 when it went 6-0 at Somerset Hills Golf Club in Bernardsville, N.J. That was also the last time the USA won all four sessions of the competition. The USA claimed all five sessions of this year's competition, a first since the format switch in 2008.

For the first time in the history of the competition, every USA player claimed at least two points.

For seven of the eight USA players, team competition is not over for the summer. The seven college players – Lucy Li is still in high school – will be competing in the Palmer Cup next month in Evian, France. The Palmer Cup features 24 American collegians – 12 men and 12 women – playing against a side of international collegians. It is the first time in the competition's history that women will participate.

The USA now leads the series 29-8-3.

QUOTABLE

Lilia Vu, No. 1 in the WAGR, on why the USA Team was so successful this week: "We believe in each other so much. When we're on the course together, when it's like foursomes or four-balls, we just read each other's putts. We know it with confidence and just do it."

USA captain Virginia Derby Grimes on Kristen Gillman going 5-0-0 in the Match: "It's really rare and she played exceptionally well. She had it going. I definitely wanted to keep putting her out there, but she was playing well and making putts."

Match History

Officially named "The Women's International Cup," the cup for the Curtis Cup Match was officially presented in 1932 by Harriot and Margaret Curtis, sisters who won the U.S. Women's Amateur four times between them. The cup, a silver bowl of Paul Revere design, is inscribed, "To stimulate friendly rivalry among the women golfers of many lands." The cup was first presented in 1927 to give momentum to the proposed competition, but play didn't begin until 1932, largely due to financial reasons.

As beloved as the Curtis Cup Match is among those who have battled for it, no other USGA competition has had such problems getting off the ground.

The Match has its origins in an informal match played in 1905. Frances Griscom of Philadelphia, the 1900 U.S. Women's Amateur champion, suggested that it would be fun for a group to play in the British Ladies Open Amateur, at Cromer, England. Eight Americans made the trip to play, including Griscom, Georgianna Bishop, the 1904 Women's Amateur champion, and Harriot and Margaret Curtis.

An informal match developed between the Americans and a team from Britain. Although the USA was soundly beaten, the exhilaration and goodwill established by their visit always stayed with the competitors, particularly with Margaret and Harriot Curtis.

Interest in an international match was revived at a 1924 meeting of the Women's Eastern Golf Association and became a subject of discussion among the Association, the British Ladies' Golf Union and the French Golf Union over the next five years. In 1927, the Curtis sisters gave the idea another push by donating a cup for an international match. Fanny Osgood of Boston was appointed to again take up the matter with the LGU.

A match was tentatively planned for 1928, but financial obstacles made it impossible.

In 1928, the USGA Women's Committee appointed a sub-committee to consider an international match, but the idea was stymied by the usual lack of funding. In 1930, the great American amateur Glenna Collett Vare took matters into her own hands and arranged for a group of her countrywomen to play in Great Britain.

In 1931, the LGU agreed to regular matches with the United States. The USGA then decided to finance the American Team and administer the competition. The Curtis Cup was accepted that same year as the official trophy.

The series began the following year with the United States opposing Great Britain, with a proviso that France might join in whenever it was able to do so. While it was hoped that many nations would eventually join in the Match, the Curtis Cup has remained a two-sided competition.

The first Curtis Cup Match was played in 1932 at Wentworth Golf Club in England. Marion Hollins captained the American Team, which consisted of Vare, Maureen Orcutt, Virginia Van Wie, Opal Hill, Helen Hicks, Leona Pressler Cheney and Dorothy Higbie. The team representing Great Britain and Ireland was made up of Joyce Wethered, the famous English champion who also served as captain, Wanda Morgan, Enid Wilson, Molly Gourlay, Doris Park, Diana Fishwick, Elsie Corlett and Mrs. J.B. Watson. The Americans prevailed, 5½ to 3½.

The 2008 Match at St. Andrews marked a change in format. The Match changed to a three-day format, featuring three foursomes and three four-ball (better-ball) matches on the first two days. On the final day, there are eight singles matches, meaning all eight players from each side compete in singles.

The true meaning of the Curtis Cup Match has never been overshadowed by the results and the Match has always been regarded as a vehicle of international friendship and understanding.

The Match also has proved to be launching ground for future professional stardom. Those competitors include U.S. Women's Open champions JoAnne Gunderson Carner, Paula Creamer, Juli Inkster, Cristie Kerr, Hilary Lunke, Hollis Stacy and Michelle Wie as well as LPGA Tour stars Beth Daniel, Jessica Korda, Stacy Lewis, Nancy Lopez and Lexi Thompson.
