Lara Tennant Wins the 2019 Championship

Lara Tennant arrived at Cedar Rapids Country Club to begin her title defense in the 58th U.S. Senior Women's Amateur Championship, a repeat performance was not on her radar.

"When I shot 70 in the first round of stroke play, I said I'm so glad I played OK, so that people won't think my victory was a fluke," said Tennant, 52, of Portland, Ore.

Tennant backed up her 2018 triumph in remarkably similar fashion: she earned the No. 5 seed in stroke play (No. 10 last year), then marched through the bracket, ultimately meeting her co-finalist from last year, Sue Wooster of Australia, and prevailing by the exact same 3-and-2 margin in the championship. But it was not a repeat performance in golf terms.

"This week, my swing wasn't as crisp as it was last year," said Tennant. "There were times I was confident this week and I played well, but I would say mentally you just have to grind it out, play against par instead of your opponent. That's what I continued to do throughout the week, to stay calm."

Tennant lost the second hole after a poor drive, but she rebounded to win No. 4 with a par and took her first lead of the day when she parred the 183-yard par-3 eighth hole after Wooster found the water with her tee shot for a double bogey. Wooster then missed three consecutive fairways, and Tennant captured both the 10th and 11th holes with pars to Wooster's bogeys to take firm control.

"You know what? Sue is a tough competitor and a fabulous golfer," said Tennant, who played at the University of Arizona. "Last year I honestly apologized to Sue for beating her because at this point in the game, when you've played 10 rounds in eight days you're both exhausted, you both worked hard, you both played well. I really had to not be distracted and just focus on my game. You don't get many opportunities to be in the finals of a USGA championship."

Wooster, who won three matches on the 18th hole, including her quarterfinal and semifinal wins the previous day, cut into the lead on the par-4 13th when she made a gritty up-and-down and Tennant three-putted. Leading 2 up, Tennant got a crucial break on the next hole. With both players on the plateau green of the par-4 14th in two, Tennant hit the flagstick with her putt from 45 feet away, with the ball stopping a few inches from the hole. Had it not hit the stick, it would have rolled several feet past.

"I think that was the critical shot," said Tennant. "The ball didn't go in, but it gave me a two-putt on a very, very long putt. I had been quite a distance away on each of the two previous holes and three-putted them, so I needed a two-putt in there. You have to get some of those breaks in order to win."

"Sometimes you just say what can you do?" said Wooster.

"It's tough, but you always expect your opponent – you've got to expect that stuff to happen."

Both players made two-putt pars on the par-5 15th, and when Wooster missed another fairway to the right on No. 16, she needed to aim away from the flagstick on her approach. Tennant made a comfortable par after a crisp iron shot, and when Wooster's 8-foot try for an up-and-down missed, the match was over.

"When your swing is a little bit off, you just have to learn to play by your gut," said Wooster, who finished 40th in last year's inaugural U.S. Senior Women's Open. "My putting kept me in it. I had only one or two three-putts the whole week. And having said that, I didn't really hole anything, either. Didn't hole any 10-, 15-footers, so that was disappointing."

NOTABLE

Before Sue Wooster, the most recent player to lose back-to-back USGA finals was Davis Riley (2013 and 2014 U.S. Juniors). Wooster was looking to become the 24th player (out of 661 match-play championships) to win a USGA title after losing in the final of that same championship the previous year.

This was also the ninth time there has been a rematch in a USGA championship final and the fourth time it has happened in consecutive years. On all but two occasions, including this final, the loser of the first match has won either the second or third time. The other player to lose two finals to the same opponent was Lewis Oehmig, who fell to Dale Morey in the 1974 and 1977 U.S. Senior Amateur finals.

Lara Tennant is the ninth player to successfully defend her title in the U.S. Senior Women's Amateur and the first since Ellen Port in 2012-13.

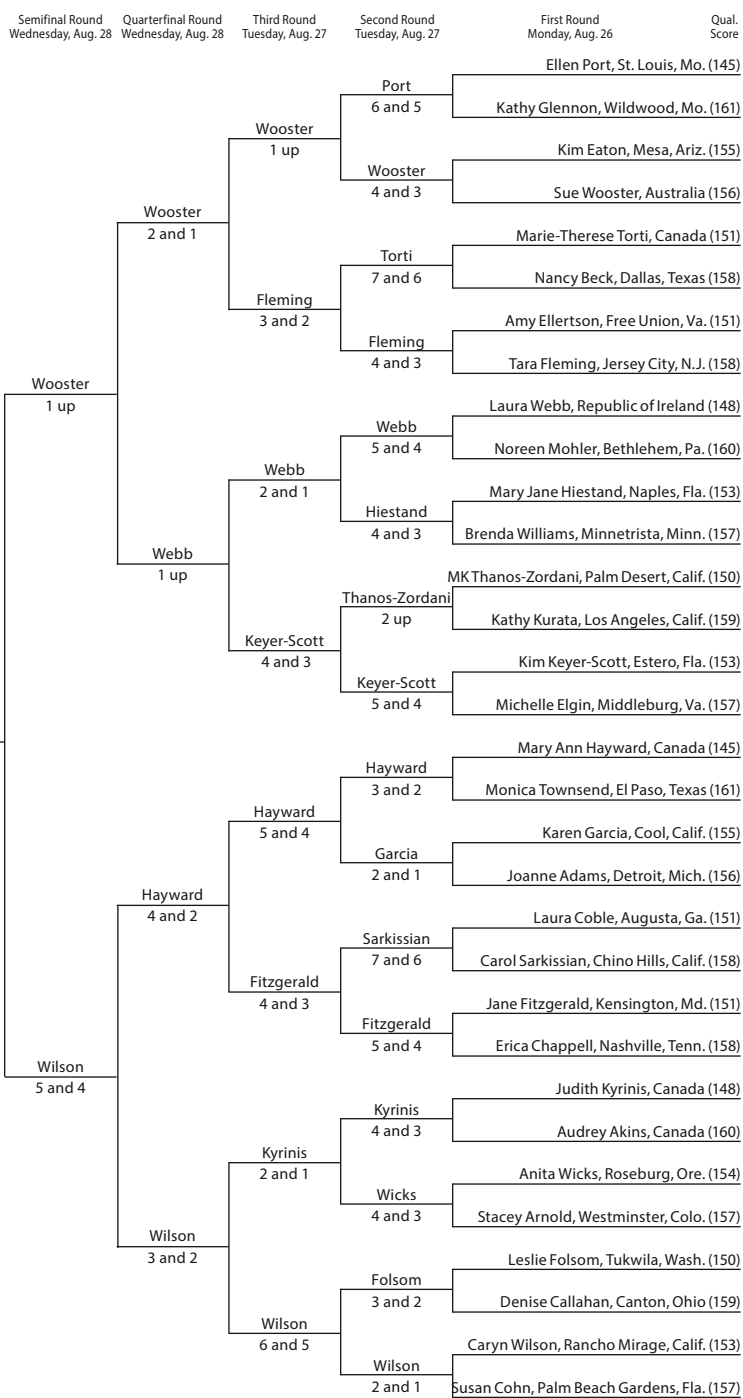

Both finalists are exempt into the 2020 U.S. Senior Women's Open Championship, July 9-12, at Brooklawn Country Club in Fairfield, Conn., while Wooster is exempt into the next three U.S. Senior Women's Amateurs and Tennant is exempt into the next 10. The 2020 U.S. Senior Women's Amateur will be played Sept. 12-17 at the Lakewood Club in Point Clear, Ala.

Championship History

The U.S. Senior Women's Amateur Championship was inaugurated in 1962 for women golfers age 50 and older.

By the late 1950s, a number of senior women's golf organizations had been formed, principally to conduct tournaments, but there was no existing tournament to determine the national champion. The USGA was requested to step in, and in January 1962, the Executive Committee approved such a competition.

In its own quiet way, senior women's golf has flourished over the years. Several major competitions have sprung up throughout the country, and with the expansion of women's golf, the number of quality senior players has increased dramatically. Many women, age 50 and over, for the first time find they have the requisite time for top-level competitive golf. Additionally, some of the nation's finest amateurs have advanced into this age group and still seek to test their talent and experience on a championship level. Many women who enter these competitions also have been instrumental in the development of women's golf in this country, encouraging younger players and conducting tournaments at all levels.

The first Senior Women's Amateur Championship, in 1962 at the Manufacturers' Golf and Country Club in Oreland, Pa., was a stroke-play showdown of two longtime rivals. Maureen Orcutt, a four-time Curtis Cup player, finished with a 54-hole score of 240, seven strokes ahead of Glenna Collett Vare. In the 1920s and 1930s, Vare reigned as this country's finest woman player with a record six victories in the U.S. Women's Amateur.

Great players of the past have thus far dominated the Senior Women's Amateur. Carolyn Cudone, another former Curtis Cup Team member, won the championship five times in succession between 1968 and 1972.

Dorothy Porter won four Senior Women's Amateur Championships and is one of only four players to have also captured the U.S. Women's Amateur. In 1993, Anne Sander, the Women's Amateur champion in 1958, 1961 and 1963, won her fourth Senior Women's Amateur.

Marlene Stewart Streit, U.S. Women's Amateur champion in 1956, won the Senior Women's Amateur in 1985, 1994 and 2003, and was runner-up a record five times. The 47-year span between Streit's first and last USGA titles is the longest among all USGA champions.

Carol Semple Thompson won the 1973 Women's Amateur and the 1990 and 1997 Women's Mid-Amateurs, and captured her fourth consecutive Senior Women's Amateur title in 2002.

After 35 years of a stroke-play format, the 1997 championship was the first Senior Women's Amateur to be conducted at match play. It was the last of the USGA's 10 national amateur championships to adopt a match-play format.
