Kiko Francisco Coelho and Leopoldo Herrera III Win the 2021 Championship

The 2021 summer competition calendar got a little busier for Kiko Francisco Coelho and Leopoldo Herrera III. The two teenagers earned their way into the 121st U.S. Amateur Championship at Oakmont (Pa.) Country Club with a dramatic 19-hole victory over Canadians and University of Nevada teammates Brendan MacDougall, 23, and Sam Meek, 21, in Wednesday's championship match of the 6th U.S. Amateur Four-Ball Championship at Chambers Bay.

Earlier this year, the USGA upgraded the exemption categories for its two Four-Ball competitions, adding spots to the U.S. Amateur and U.S. Women's Amateur, as well as any other age-specific championships for which the champions are eligible. The Portuguese-born Coelho, 18, of Lake Mary, Fla., also is in the field for the U.S. Junior Amateur in July at The Country Club of North Carolina.

"It sounds amazing," said Herrera. "I knew we could do it. I kept telling [Kiko], I know we can do it; we're going to be hard to beat. We were tough as nails out there."

Neither Herrera, 19, of Doral, Fla. and who was born in Venezuela, nor Coelho, the 2020 Florida State Golf Association Junior Player of the Year, had ever competed in a USGA championship before this week. Coelho becomes the second foreign-born player to etch his name on the U.S. Amateur Four-Ball Trophy, joining 2017 winner Shuai Ming Wong, of Hong Kong, China (with American Frankie Capan). He is the first player from Portugal to claim a USGA championship.

The two formed a partnership after Coelho, who moved to the U.S. two years ago and plans to enroll at Arizona State in the fall, edged Herrera, a rising sophomore at Central Florida, by three strokes to win the 2020 FSGA Junior Amateur. Herrera, whose parents were born in Venezuela, is a member of the Venezuelan national golf team.

"Yeah, no words can describe [the feelings I have]," said Coelho. "We came here, we knew we could win. We had a really good team. We just played solid all week."

Wednesday's final was the first championship match to go extra holes in the six editions of the competition.

With the match tied on the 605-yard 18th hole, it looked grim for Herrera and Coelho when MacDougall nearly holed out a 40-yard pitch shot. The tap-in birdie was conceded, forcing either Coelho or Herrera to convert a birdie putt. Coelho missed from 20 feet, but Herrera made his 14-footer, punching the air with his right arm and exhorting his partner to "Come on!"

"Yeah, it just shows what a goofy game this is," said MacDougall. "I hit what I thought was a perfect shot, did what I needed to, and if it goes in it's a different story, and same thing, if our opponent doesn't make that putt on 18 it's a different story. Props to [Leopoldo], he hit the putt he needed to when he needed to. They earned it. Good for them."

On the 19th hole, the 555-yard, par-5 first hole at Chambers Bay, MacDougall hit a wayward tee shot and eventually picked up his ball. His partner Meek laced his drive and hit his second shot to the fringe of the green. Coelho reached the green in two, while Herrera was just off the putting surface. Coelho lagged to 2 feet and holed his short birdie putt.

After Herrera missed his eagle try, Meek had 4 feet for birdie to continue the match. The putt rolled just to the left, as Meek crouched over in disbelief.

It was the end of a long day for Meek, 21, and the 23-year-old MacDougall, who played 41 holes of golf – two 19-hole matches and three holes from Tuesday's suspended quarterfinal match.

Seeking to become the first Nevada players to win a USGA championship since Casey Watabu stunned future PGA Tour winner Anthony Kim in the 36-hole final of the 2006 U.S. Amateur Public Links Championship, the Canadians rallied from a 2-down deficit through 11 holes by making birdies on both par 3s on the back nine. MacDougall holed a 15-footer on 15 and another 12-footer on 17 to tie the match.

In Wednesday morning's semifinals, Coelho and Herrera registered two birdies and pair of eagles during a four-hole stretch on the front nine en route to eliminating Notre Dame teammates Davis Chatfield, 21, of Attleboro, Mass., and 2019 U.S. Amateur quarterfinalist Palmer Jackson, 20, of Murrysville, Pa., 2 and 1.

"You know it's not going to last forever," said Chatfield, "but we stuck with it and fought our way to the very end and tried to hit as many good shots as possible."

MacDougall and Meek posted three consecutive birdies from No. 17 to defeat Loyola Chicago University teammates Tyler Anderson, 21, of Mundelein, Ill., and Devin Johnson, 22, of Elburn, Ill., in 19 holes in the other semifinal. MacDougall forced extra holes with a 6-foot birdie on the par-5 18th after Johnson had flown his second shot just over the green and failed to get up and down for birdie.

Meek rolled in a 25-foot birdie on the par-5 first hole to close out the match.

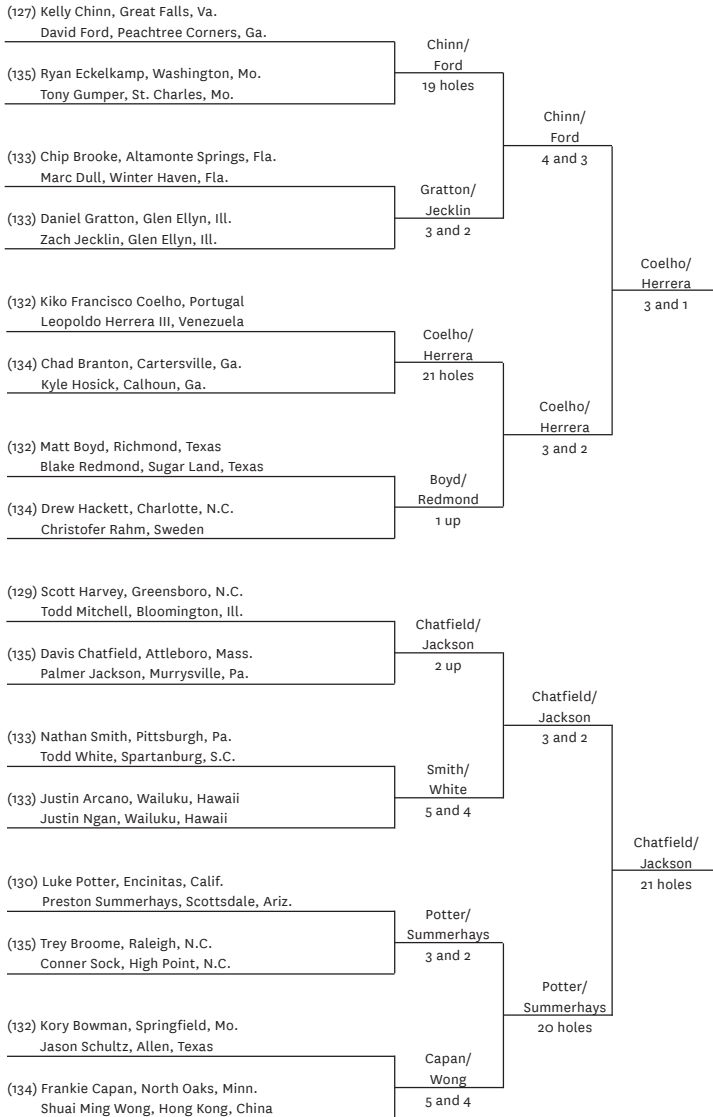

"Obviously coming out here and making it to the semifinals, I'm really happy with that," said Johnson, the 2021 Missouri Valley Conference champion. "I'm sure I'll look back at that and take it as an accomplishment, but for now, we lost, and we've still got things to work on."

NOTABLE

The runners-up each receive silver medals, plus exemptions into the next three U.S. Amateur Four-Ball Championships. The 2022 event is scheduled for May 14-18 at the Country Club of Birmingham (Ala.).

Championship History

The U.S. Amateur Four-Ball Championships were first played in 2015 but the genesis of these USGA competitions was years in the making.

As part of its mission to provide the best in national championship competition, the USGA began the process of developing and deploying these championships at the suggestion of Chief Executive Officer Mike Davis.

Through extensive research and cooperation from the nation's many state and regional golf associations, the planning and implementation by the USGA's Rules & Competitions department produced a proposal to the Executive Committee, which was passed and ultimately announced at the USGA Annual Meeting in San Diego in 2013.

"We couldn't be more excited about the creation of national four-ball championships, given the popularity and enjoyment of this competitive format at the amateur level," said USGA Vice President and Championship Committee Chairman Thomas J. O'Toole Jr., at the time of the announcement. "Because the four-ball format lends itself to spirited team competition and aggressive risk-reward shotmaking, we are confident these championships will deliver exciting amateur golf to the national stage for both players and spectators alike."

In 2012, more than 150 championships, either strictly four-ball or as part of a competition format, were conducted in all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

The first two sites for each championship were announced in July of 2013: 2015 Four-Ball at The Olympic Club in San Francisco, Calif., and 2016 Four-Ball at Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y. and the 2015 Women's Four-Ball at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort in Bandon, Ore., and the 2016 Women's Four-Ball at Streamsong Resort in Streamsong, Fla.

It marked the first time in 25 years, since the establishment of the U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur in 1987, that the USGA had added a new championship.

The establishment of the Four-Ball championships was first and foremost a reflection of the Association's continued commitment to supporting and growing amateur competition well into the future. A critical factor was that four-ball is a very popular event, not only at the club level, but through our state and regional golf associations who conduct championships like this every year and have for many years.

This format, more than most other formats, promotes camaraderie and perhaps players traveling together. The risk-reward element involved in two balls in play on each hole can produce some exciting golf and likely more birdies and eagles, which is attractive to competitors and viewers.

In the inaugural year, 2015, the Four-Ball championships were the first USGA competitions to be televised by the Association's then broadcast partner, Fox Sports, with both championships receiving four hours of live broadcast coverage.

In 2020, the U.S. Amateur Four-Ball was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
