James Piot Wins the 2021 Championship

James Piot, 22, of Canton, Mich., rallied from a three-hole deficit with the help of three birdies over the final eight holes on Sunday to capture the 121st U.S. Amateur Championship at demanding Oakmont Country Club with a 2-and-1 victory over Austin Greaser, of Vandalia, Ohio.

Greaser, 20, assumed a 3-up lead with a par on the par-4 ninth hole at Oakmont, the 27th of the match. But Piot began his winning comeback on the next hole, the 474-yard, par-4 10th, a hole that the fifth-year Michigan State senior owned this week: he won it in all five of his previous matches, and twice more in the championship match vs. Greaser, a junior at the University of North Carolina.

Piot hit his 9-iron approach shot to 4 feet and converted the birdie putt, then won No. 11 with a par as Greaser three-putted for a bogey from about 12 feet. Piot then won the par-5 12th with a par and the par-3 13th with a conceded birdie to take his first lead in the match since he led, 1 up, at the 18-hole lunch break.

“When I got down, I knew that my driver had been a bit shaky,” said Piot, the No. 31 seed, who becomes the first golfer from Michigan to win the U.S. Amateur. “I just tried to stay confident in myself. I wanted to play the back nine in 4 under and I ended up playing it in 3 under.”

Greaser stopped the bleeding by converting a 20-foot birdie putt to match Piot’s up-and-down birdie on the short par-4 14th, but Piot extended his lead to 2 up with a solid par on the 502-yard, par-4 15th, as Greaser drove into the “mini-Church Pews” bunker and was forced to lay up short of the green. He missed an 18-foot putt to tie the hole.

Both players parred the next two holes, the par-3 16th and par-4 17th. On the drivable 17th, both found the deep bunker to the left of the green, and Piot put his second shot over the green into another bunker. But he got up and down for par from there, and Greaser missed his 10-foot birdie putt that would have extended the match to No. 18.

“He hit a really good shot on 10, to 3 feet for a birdie; hats off to him there,” said Greaser, the 2020 Ohio Amateur champion. “That was a good start. Then I just made some mistakes there on 11, 12, 13, just bogey, bogey, bogey. That’s never going to look good on the scorecard. Just didn’t execute coming down the stretch.”

Notable

The 2021 final represents the eighth final in the last 12 years with two players from the United States. It also marked the third year in a row with an American champion. It’s just the second time since 2003 that three straight winners were Americans. James Piot joined Andy Ogletree and Tyler Strafaci, both of Georgia Tech, as the most recent three champions. The last time three straight Americans won was in 2010-12, when Peter Uihlein, Kelly Kraft and Steven Fox prevailed, respectively.

Piot, of Michigan State, is the first active Big Ten golfer to win the U.S. Amateur since John Cook (Ohio State) in 1978. Matt Fitzpatrick had not yet enrolled at Northwestern University when he won in 2013, while John Harris was an alumnus of the University of Minnesota when he won at age 41 in 1993.

When Piot won the par-5 12th hole, the 30th of the match, it broke a streak of 10 consecutive par 5s either won or halved by Austin Greaser.

Going back to 2008, no player had won four straight holes on the closing nine holes of the championship match.

Tale of the tape: For the week of match play, Piot played 121 holes to 117 for Austin Greaser. Piot won 43 holes overall to 42 for Greaser; Piot lost 25 holes to 29 for Greaser; Piot trailed for 24 holes for the week, while Greaser trailed for 27 holes.

Quotable

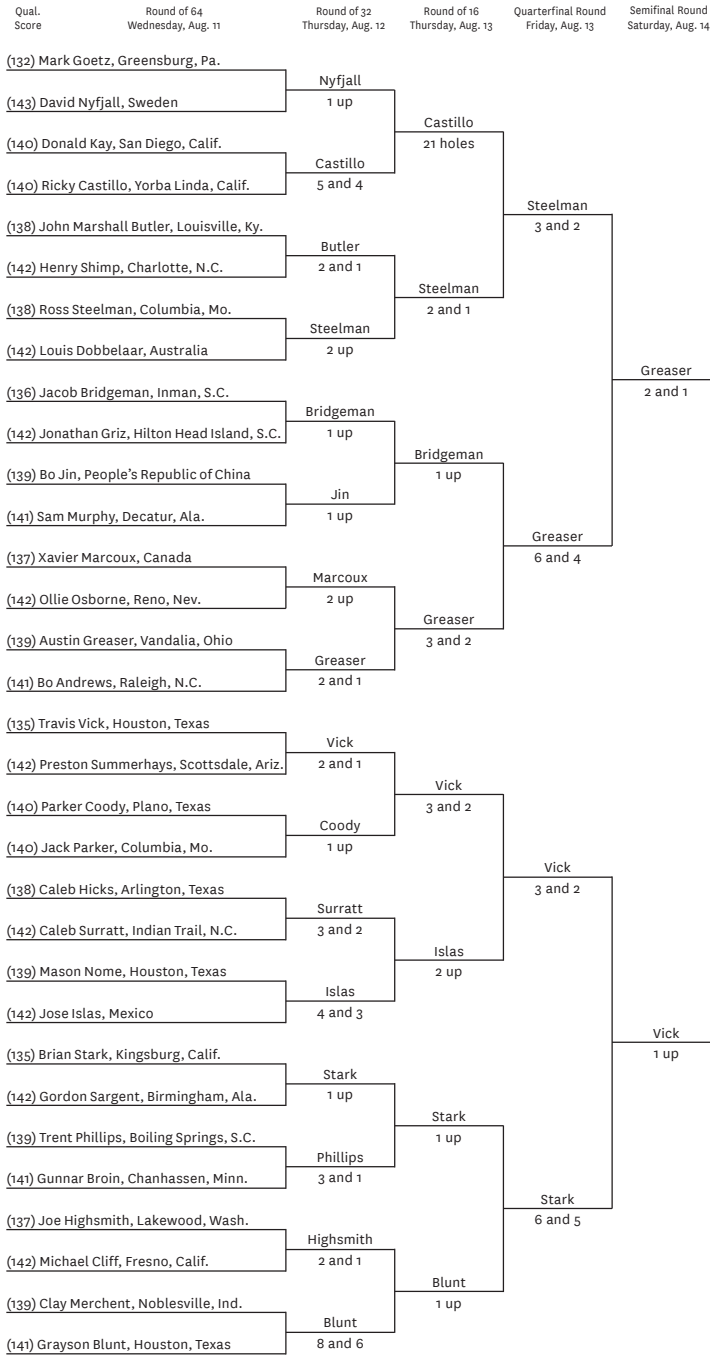

“It’s the greatest feeling in the world. I mean, as an amateur it’s the best thing you can do. After making that putt on 17, I was just like, oh, my God. I might’ve done it. It feels phenomenal, shows the hard work I’ve done is paying off.” – James Piot, on winning the 121st U.S. Amateur

“My assistant coach on the bag [Dan Ellis] told me that after I got through it, he was like, I think we might have won that hole every time. The stretch of 8, 10, 11, I think losing 9 was the first time I lost that hole all week. That stretch, I have gained one or two holes every time I played, so that’s a big momentum swing, especially heading into the closing holes. That made a world of difference today.” – Piot, on winning No. 10 and the momentum shift in the match

“You know what? I actually thought I hit two really good shots. That first one on 17 came off the face and like, ‘This is perfect.’ Then I look over and it didn’t even look like it was close to stopping on the green. It was like, ‘Oh, my gosh, what did I just do?’ On the second one, it scared the hole and went 15, 20 feet by. My coach [Ellis] wanted to look it over. I was like, ‘I feel pretty good about this one.’ I just rolled it end over end and it was perfect.” – Piot, on going bunker-to-bunker and making par to win the match

“Me and Carter [Pitcairn, Greaser’s caddie] were talking about it this morning. It’s a very unique experience, an opportunity of a lifetime. Who knows if I’ll ever be standing back up here like this again. You got the best golfers in the world, and to be able to be one of the last two is something special. It’s something that I’m going to cherish for a long time.” – Greaser, on reaching the final.

Championship History

The U.S. Amateur Championship is the oldest USGA championship and it was created in 1895 because of a controversy. In 1894, two clubs -- Newport (R.I.) Golf Club and New York's St. Andrew's Golf Club -- had conducted invitational tournaments to attract the nation's top amateur players.

Both clubs proclaimed their winners as the national champion, while Charles Blair Macdonald, a prominent player and course architect, was the runner-up in both.

Before the final day of the St. Andrew's tournament, it was announced that an association composed of all the clubs in the United States would be formed in the ensuing months. This new national governing body would oversee a universally recognized championship and create a written set of rules.

With that, representatives from Newport Golf Club, St. Andrew's Golf Club, The Country Club in Brookline, Mass., Shinnecock Hills Golf Club in Southampton, N.Y., and Chicago Golf Club founded the USGA on Dec. 22, 1894, and the inaugural U.S. Amateur Championship was conducted the following year, along with the U.S. Open and U.S. Women's Amateur.

The Amateur and Open Championships were conducted at Newport Golf Club during the same week of October and Macdonald became the first U.S. Amateur champion.

The Amateur Championship is the oldest golf championship in this country — one day older than the U.S. Open. Except for an eight-year period from 1965-1972, when it was stroke play, the Amateur has been a match-play championship.

Over the years, as interest in the game grew and the number of quality players increased, it became necessary to establish a national handicapping system to determine who was eligible to compete in the Amateur. The USGA's first national handicap list, which was published for the 1912 championship, was the forerunner of the present-day USGA Handicap System.

Throughout its history, the U.S. Amateur has been the most coveted of all amateur titles. Many of the great names of professional golf, such as Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Lanny Wadkins, Craig Stadler, Jerry Pate, Mark O'Meara, Hal Sutton, Phil Mickelson and Tiger Woods, grace the Havemeyer Trophy.

It was, however, longtime amateur Robert T. Jones Jr. who first attracted media coverage and spectator attendance at the Amateur Championship. Jones captured the championship five times (1924, 1925, 1927, 1928, 1930). His 1930 victory was a stunning moment in golf history when, at Merion Cricket Club in Ardmore, Pa., Jones rounded out the Grand Slam, winning the four major American and British championships in one year.

Sixty-six years later, in 1996, Tiger Woods attracted similar interest and enthusiasm when he won a record third consecutive U.S. Amateur at Pumpkin Ridge Golf Club in North Plains, Ore. In 1994, Woods, at 18, had first entered the record book as the youngest ever to win the Amateur Championship. In 1996, he broke yet another record when he won, having registered 18 consecutive match-play victories.

International players also have made a major impact in the last two decades, with Nick Flanagan (Australia, 2003), Edoardo Molinari (Italy, 2005), Richie Ramsay (Scotland, 2006), Danny Lee (New Zealand, 2008), Byeong-Hun An (Republic of Korea, 2009), Matthew Fitzpatrick (England, 2013), Gunn Yang (Republic of Korea, 2014), Curtis Luck (Australia, 2016) and Viktor Hovland (Norway, 2018) taking the title.

In 2020, the U.S. Amateur was conducted during the COVID-19 pandemic. Due to health and safety protocols, qualifying was canceled. The field was all-exempt and the number of players was reduced to 264.
