Sarah Lim and Asterisk Talley Win the 2024 Championship

Asterisk Talley's remarkable season of golf continued this week at Oak Hills Country Club, and this time she brought a friend along for the ride. Talley, 15, of Chowchilla, Calif., teamed with fellow Northern Californian Sarah Lim, 17, of Saratoga, to capture the 9th U.S. Women's Amateur Four-Ball Championship.

The dynamic duo won a pair of matches on a hot Wednesday in southwestern Texas, including a 4-and-2 decision in the 18-hole final over Brynn Kort, 16, of Henderson, Nev., and Gracie McGovern, 18, of Paradise Valley, Ariz.

Talley becomes the second-youngest player to win this title; she's just two months older than fellow U.S. National Junior Team member and 2023 champion Gianna Clemente. The high school freshman's great golf began last summer with her triumph in the Rolex Girls Championship, a major invitational on the American Junior Golf Association circuit. She also was a member of the 2023 U.S. Junior Solheim Cup Team.

This year, Talley began with a triumph at the prestigious Junior Invitational at Sage Valley in March and followed with an eighth-place finish at the Augusta National Women's Amateur. Nine days ago, she qualified for the 2024 U.S. Women's Open Presented by Ally before going to the inaugural U.S. National Junior Team camp at the Atlanta Athletic Club and flying directly to Texas on Friday in time to get in one practice round at Oak Hills, an A.W. Tillinghast design that has previously hosted the Texas Open, a PGA Tour Champions event and the 2001 U.S. Junior Amateur.

"It's crazy just knowing that I'm on the [U.S. National Junior] Team and now I'm a [USGA] champion," said Talley, who is No. 86 in the Women's World Amateur Golf Ranking®/WAGR®. "I don't know how to explain it. It's just super crazy. I'm speechless about it.

"It's been a crazy year already and we're not even halfway through. I'm just excited for what's to come, and I'm not going to let this [title] overcome my thoughts. I'm just going to keep practicing and working hard."

Lim, who has verbally committed to attend Princeton University in 2025, doesn't possess the same golf résumé, but the No. 2,454 player in the WAGR did post a pair of fifth-place finishes in AJGA events prior to the U.S. Women's Amateur Four-Ball. Living three hours from each other, the two became friends from sharing the same coach, Mike Schy, the longtime instructor to USGA champion Bryson DeChambeau, and by playing in the same junior tournaments. It was Lim who first contacted Talley last year about trying to qualify.

Qualifying won't be in their future as both are now exempt into the 2024 U.S. Women's Amateur at Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla., and the U.S. Girls' Junior at El Caballero Country Club in Tarzana, Calif., as well as the next 10 U.S. Women's Amateur Four-Balls.

While the birdies didn't accumulate in the final, they made enough to secure the title.

After going 1 down on the second hole when Kort drained a 30-footer from the fringe, Lim answered with a 25-footer of her own on No. 6 to tie the match.

The battle then turned on the par-4 seventh green. Kort had picked up her ball after missing a par putt. With Lim and Talley already in with a 4, McGovern missed her birdie attempt. Lim and Talley had left the green at this point, and McGovern, a 2024 Texas Christian University signee, thought she heard a concession call by her opponents. When she picked up, Lim's father/caddie, James Lim, alerted a Rules official of the faux pas.

A breach of Rule 9-4 turned into a loss-of-hole situation for McGovern and Kort, who suddenly found themselves 1 down.

McGovern said it emotionally rattled the side, and they never recovered, despite the match having plenty of holes remaining.

Talley got up and down for birdie from a greenside bunker on the 270-yard eighth hole, making a 5-footer for a 2-up advantage. The status stayed that way until the 14th hole when Lim converted from 5 feet.

Both McGovern, a veteran of two U.S. Women's Amateurs and a U.S. Girls' Junior, and Kort, who was playing in her fourth USGA championship, had birdie putts from 9 and 8 feet on the par-5 15th, only to miss them both.

With Lim and Talley both inside 10 feet for birdie on No. 16, McGovern had to make her uphill 18-footer – Kort missed the green and the ensuing flop shot came up 3 feet short – to extend the match. When she missed, they conceded the birdie putts and the match.

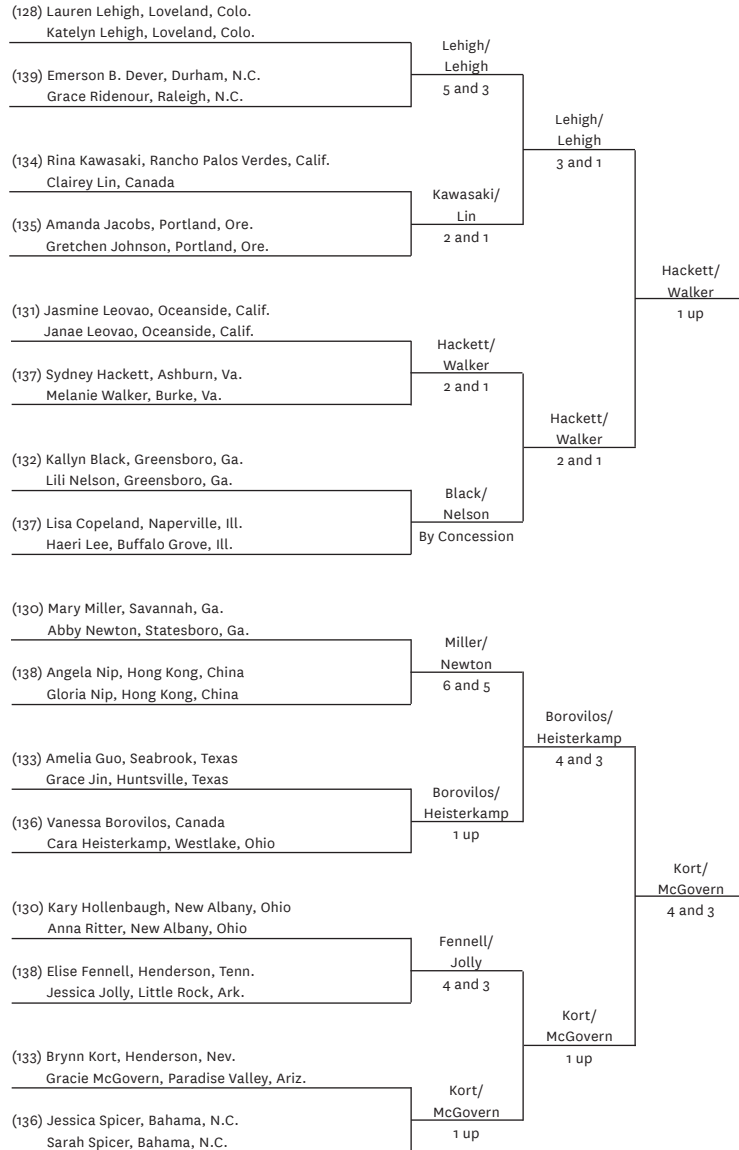

Lim and Talley earned their place in the final with a 3-and-2 victory over Tennesseans Lauren Slatton, 17, of McMinnville, and Savannah Cherry, 18, of Brentwood.

After going extra holes in their three matches leading into the semis, Slatton and Cherry struggled early with bogeys on four of the first nine holes to go 5 down at the turn. That deficit proved to be too difficult, even though they birdied Nos. 14 and 15 to trim the deficit to three holes.

Sydney Hackett, 19, of Ashburn, Va., and Melanie Walker, 20, of Burke, Va., also got out of the starting gate slow with consecutive bogeys in their 2-and-1 semifinal loss to Kort and McGovern. Even when the rising college juniors – Hackett at Western Kentucky and Walker at Missouri – got themselves back into the match on 12 and 13 to trim the deficit to 1 down, cold putters couldn't complete the comeback.

Championship History

The U.S. Amateur Four-Ball Championships were first played in 2015 but the genesis of these USGA competitions was years in the making.

As part of its mission to provide the best in national championship competition, the USGA began the process of developing and deploying these championships at the suggestion of Mike Davis, who served as the USGA's chief executive officer from 2011-21.

Through extensive research and cooperation from the nation's many state and regional golf associations, the planning and implementation by the USGA's Rules & Competitions department produced a proposal to the Executive Committee, which was passed and ultimately announced at the USGA Annual Meeting in San Diego in 2013.

"We couldn't be more excited about the creation of national four-ball championships, given the popularity and enjoyment of this competitive format at the amateur level," said USGA Vice President and Championship Committee Chairman Thomas J. O'Toole Jr., at the time of the announcement. "Because the four-ball format lends itself to spirited team competition and aggressive risk-reward shotmaking, we are confident these championships will deliver exciting amateur golf to the national stage for both players and spectators alike."

In 2012, more than 150 championships, either strictly four-ball or as part of a competition format, were conducted in all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

The first two sites for each championship were announced in July of 2013: 2015 Four-Ball at The Olympic Club in San Francisco, Calif., and 2016 Four-Ball at Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y. and the 2015 Women's Four-Ball at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort in Bandon, Ore., and the 2016 Women's Four-Ball at Streamsong Resort in Florida.

It marked the first time in 25 years, since the establishment of the U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur in 1987, that the USGA had added a new championship.

The establishment of the Four-Ball championships was first and foremost a reflection of the Association's continued commitment to supporting and growing amateur competition well into the future. A critical factor was that four-ball is a very popular event, not only at the club level, but through our state and regional golf associations (now Allied Golf Associations) who conduct championships like this every year and have for many years.

This format, more than most other formats, promotes camaraderie and perhaps players traveling together. The risk-reward element involved in two balls in play on each hole can produce some exciting golf and likely more birdies and eagles, which is attractive to competitors and fans.

In the inaugural year, the Four-Ball championships were the first USGA competitions to be televised by the Association's then broadcast partner, Fox Sports, with both championships receiving four hours of live broadcast coverage.

In 2020, the U.S. Women's Amateur Four-Ball was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
