Dawn Woodard Wins the 2025 Championship

Good things come to those who wait. After decades of playing in USGA championships, Dawn Woodard's quest for a USGA title is finally over.

Playing in her 35th USGA championship and falling short in the quarterfinals of last year's U.S. Senior Women's Amateur, the Greenville, S.C., native broke through on Thursday afternoon, erasing a late deficit to defeat Australia's Sue Wooster on the 20th hole of the championship final.

"Someone needs to pinch me, it's pretty special," said Woodard. "It was a hard golf course... Really just knowing if I keep giving myself opportunities, I still have a chance. More than anything, I think it's just never giving up on myself this week."

Sue Wooster, 63, will have to wait another year to capture her illustrious first U.S. Senior Women's title. This week was the Aussie's 12th U.S. Senior Women's Amateur appearance and her fourth time coming up shy in the final round.

"I was just so grateful to have made another final," said the 2025 Arizona Women's Senior Amateur champion. "I said to myself, 'win or lose, so be it.' It kind of wasn't like that when I lost. I was very emotional. I've been emotional all of my four losses. The pressure is just so intense that there's just this big buildup and then you just release it. You're delighted if you win and the opposite if you lose, but I'll get over it quickly."

After her dramatic 19-hole semifinal win over 2023 champion Sarah Gallagher, Wooster struck first on the second hole of the championship match, before Woodard evened the score with her first birdie of the day on the par-4 third. The Aussie won the next two holes to build an early 2-up lead. After tying the next three holes, Woodard slimmed the margin with a birdie on the par 5th ninth.

The momentum continued to flip back-and-forth on the back nine, with Wooster regaining her two-up lead on the par-4 10th, before Woodard answered back by winning the next two holes, featuring a clutch par on No. 12 to tie the match.

A par on No. 13 from Wooster would level the match going into the infamous par 3-5-5-3 final stretch of the Cascades Course at The Omni Homestead Resort that has swung matches all week.

A costly bogey from Wooster on the par-5 16th would once again square the match, before the duo halved the 17th, bringing the match to the final regulation hole. Woodard's tee shot on the 170-yard par-3 went over the green into the rough, while Wooster landed her shot 15 feet from the hole. After Wooster calmly two-putted for par, Woodard was left with a seven-footer to tie, burying her par putt to extend the match into a playoff hole.

After halving the first playoff hole, Woodard found the fairway with her tee shot on the par-5 20th hole, laying up and two-putting for par. Wooster came up short with her approach shot, and was faced with a must-have up-and-down from the rough, missing her 15 footer to extend the match, crowning Woodard as champion.

A surprise visit from husband, Jason Woodard, who drove all night from South Carolina, added a special touch to the victory. Support also poured in from back home for Woodard from their three girls, Ashley (27), Sam (25), and Caitlin (22).

"He was supposed to be going to Chicago for work, but I'm happy he's here," said Woodard.

In just her second U.S. Senior Women's Amateur appearance, the quest is over for 51-year-old Woodard, as she lifted the U.S. Senior Women's Amateur trophy Thursday afternoon, cementing her place in USGA history.

Notable

Next year's U.S. Senior Women's Amateur will be held at Portland (Ore.) Golf Club, from Sept. 26-Oct. 3

On the bag for Woodard was Cissy Gallagher, of Greenwood, Miss., who competed in this year's championship and was defeated, 2 and 1, by Lisa McGill in the Round of 64.

Since match play began in 1997, this is the fourth time in championship history the final match went extra holes.

Today's match was the longest final round since Anna Shultz's 20-hole victory over Robyn Puckett in 2007 at Sunriver (Ore.) Resort (Meadows Course).

Quotable

"It's pretty special. When I got here and played the first practice round, I loved the golf course. From the time we [husband Jason] were married, we've got great friends up in Highlands, North Carolina, so we've gone up there every summer. We play a lot of mountain golf. I got here and I kind of felt like it feels a bit like Highlands. It's mountain golf." - Dawn Woodard on playing at The Omni Homestead

"People look up to me because of my age. I think I do pretty well, and I'd like to think that I can be a good example to senior women golfers to work hard and give it a shot." - Sue Wooster on being an inspiration to others in the field

Last night was a little tougher for sure. It's such a grind. You're physically just tired. I did wake up last night and your thoughts are racing a little bit here and there, but it's also good. You get a chance to get some of those thoughts out before you even get here this morning. - Dawn Woodard on handling the nerves heading into the championship match

Championship History

The U.S. Senior Women's Amateur Championship was inaugurated in 1962 for women golfers age 50 and older.

By the late 1950s, a number of senior women's golf organizations had been formed, principally to conduct tournaments, but there was no existing tournament to determine the national champion. The USGA was requested to step in, and in January 1962, the Executive Committee approved such a competition.

In its own quiet way, senior women's golf has flourished over the years. Several major competitions have sprung up throughout the country, and with the expansion of women's golf, the number of quality senior players has increased dramatically. Many women, age 50 and over, for the first time find they have the requisite time for top-level competitive golf. Additionally, some of the nation's finest amateurs have advanced into this age group and still seek to test their talent and experience on a championship level. Many women who enter these competitions also have been instrumental in the development of women's golf in this country, encouraging younger players and conducting tournaments at all levels.

The first Senior Women's Amateur Championship, in 1962 at the Manufacturers' Golf and Country Club in Orelan, Pa., was a stroke-play showdown of two longtime rivals. Maureen Orcutt, a four-time Curtis Cup player, finished with a 54-hole score of 240, seven strokes ahead of Glenna Collett Vare. In the 1920s and 1930s, Vare reigned as this country's finest woman player with a record six victories in the U.S. Women's Amateur.

Great players of the past have thus far dominated the Senior Women's Amateur. Carolyn Cudone, another former Curtis Cup Team member, won the championship five times in succession between 1968 and 1972.

Dorothy Porter won four Senior Women's Amateur Championships and is one of only four players to have also captured the U.S. Women's Amateur. In 1993, Anne Sander, the Women's Amateur champion in 1958, 1961 and 1963, won her fourth Senior Women's Amateur.

Marlene Stewart Streit, U.S. Women's Amateur champion in 1956, won the Senior Women's Amateur in 1985, 1994 and 2003, and was runner-up a record five times. The 47-year span between Streit's first and last USGA titles is the longest among all USGA champions.

Carol Semple Thompson won the 1973 Women's Amateur and the 1990 and 1997 Women's Mid-Amateurs, and captured her fourth consecutive Senior Women's Amateur title in 2002.

After 35 years of a stroke-play format, the 1997 championship was the first Senior Women's Amateur to be conducted at match play. It was the last of the USGA's 10 national amateur championships to adopt a match-play format.

In 2020, the U.S. Senior Women's Amateur was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Lara Tennant became the third player to win at least three consecutive U.S. Senior Women's Amateurs, joining Carolyn Cudone and Semple Thompson, in 2021.

Alaska hosted a USGA championship for the first time in 2022 when the U.S. Senior Women's Amateur was conducted at Anchorage Golf Course.
