Padraig Harrington Wins the 2025 Championship

Ominous clouds enveloped Cheyenne Mountain early Sunday afternoon at The Broadmoor. Danger was approaching. Even the horns blew to tell everyone involved at the 45th U.S. Senior Open Championship to take shelter.

The USGA had moved up tee times by two hours as a precaution, knowing that potential thunderstorms could create a problem for the final round on the East Course. For the record, USGA officials blew the horn for a dangerous situation about 20 minutes after the last group walked off the 72nd hole.

Padraig Harrington certainly realized that weather wasn't his only issue on Sunday. The 53-year-old from the Republic of Ireland had plenty of other concerns such as Stewart Cink and Mark Hensby – the two competitors he shared the 54-hole lead with – as well as several capable chasers, including last week's senior major winner Miguel Angel Jimenez, and a course layout that had proven to have major-championship chops all week.

But eyes were definitely smiling for the affable Irishman. The three-time major champion carded a 3-under-par 67 and got some help from a couple of late missed birdie putts to hold off Cink by one stroke and claim his second U.S. Senior Open title in three years. His 72-hole total of 11-under 269 also was two ahead of Jimenez, who made a Sunday charge with a 64, the lowest round of the championship.

"We were looking at that cloud all day," said Harrington. "There's no doubt about it. Because I was going well myself and Stewart was going well, you actually never want to stop when you're going well. You don't want to lose that momentum and have to restart."

"I don't have any control over the weather, but I was hoping that it would stay away and we'd get it done and they blew the hooter as I was out there [doing a post-round interview] and now coming back in. It was important to get it done."

Thomas Bjorn (72) and Hensby (73), who turned 54 on Sunday, shared fourth at 5-under 275, with Steve Flesch (70) and Steven Alker (70) finishing sixth (276) and seventh (277), respectively.

Harrington, who won a pair of Open Championships and a PGA Championship during his regular-tour days, became the eighth multiple champion of the U.S. Senior Open, joining the likes of fellow World Golf Hall of Famers Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Bernhard Langer and Hale Irwin.

"It's all about winning," said Harrington, now the owner of 10 senior circuit wins. "Every time you come back out and you win, the nerves are there, the tension's there, you don't want to mess up. But I think winning a U.S. Senior Open or any tournament on the Champions Tour, it kind of validates your career. It validates the past in a lot of ways."

Harrington is not one of those players who prefers looking at on-course leader boards. Knowing he was playing the final round alongside two fellow competitors tied for the 54-hole lead made the situation a little easier. When Hensby fell back with bogeys on Nos. 1 and 5, it suddenly turned into a match-play situation with Cink, the 2009 Open champion who owns 20 top-10 finishes in his first 26 starts on the PGA Tour Champions.

Harrington and Cink entered the final round in the top two in greens in regulation and there was no reason to think either would falter under final-round pressure.

Each got off to a good start on the statistically easier front nine, shooting 3-under 33s. Each took a turn with the lead on the second nine; Cink bogeyed No. 10 to fall one back, and then Harrington regained the lead a hole later with a birdie and Cink bogey. Cink tied things up with a birdie on 14 but then gave the shot back with a poor tee shot on the 455-yard, par-4 15th, a hole that Harrington had bogeyed the previous three rounds.

While this was happening, Jimenez, who birdied the last two holes a week ago before defeating Alker in a playoff at the Kaulig Companies Championship (formerly Senior Players Championship), was making a remarkable run with eight birdies over a 14-hole stretch to get to 10 under par and one stroke off Harrington's lead.

Harrington missed golden opportunities to stretch his lead on Nos. 13, 14 and 15, and then he watched Cink stiff two shots on 16 and 17 inside of 8 feet. But with a little luck of the Irish, the Georgian missed both.

Cink and Harrington both hit great drives at 18, with the former's ball coming up just short of the penalty area some 313 yards from the tee. As he discussed his 151-yard approach shot with longtime caddie Ronan Flood, Harrington was reminded of a piece of advice given to him three years ago by Irwin when holding a precarious lead going into the final hole.

"Ronan reminded me that Hale always said to hit the shot as if you are one shot behind," said Harrington.

His half-swing, pitching-wedge approach stopped 7 feet from the flagstick, putting pressure on Cink. His 123-yard shot stopped further right of Harrington's ball, and when he failed to convert the long birdie putt, Harrington needed only a two-putt to win.

Even when his birdie attempt curled 18 inches from the hole, a smiling Harrington hesitated before realizing he should mark to allow Hensby and Cink to finish.

The Francis D. Ouimet Memorial Trophy was in his possession once again.

By late Sunday afternoon, Harrington, didn't care about ominous clouds. He was on Cloud 9.

Championship History

The first U.S. Senior Open Championship was played June 26-29, 1980, on the East Course of Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y. The championship was conducted for golfers 55 and older, with a handicap limit of eight strokes for amateurs.

Established as a result of the remarkable growth in senior golf, both at the professional and amateur levels, the championship attracted 631 entries. The final two rounds of the U.S. Senior Open were broadcast live on national television beginning with the inaugural championship, and it has been telecast nationally ever since.

The 1980 field included former U.S. Open champions Lew Worsham, Julius Boros, Ed Furgol, Jack Fleck and Tommy Bolt. Former U.S. Amateur champion William C. Campbell was also a competitor. Roberto De Vicenzo, a national hero in his native Argentina, won with a 1-over 285, four strokes ahead of runner-up Campbell.

In 1981, the USGA lowered the age minimum to 50 to make the championship more competitive. The USGA also believed that lowering the minimum age would place the Senior Open in the mainstream of other senior competitions.

The second Senior Open was won by another national hero, Arnold Palmer, 51, at Oakland Hills Country Club in Birmingham, Mich. Palmer won in an 18-hole playoff with Bob Stone and Billy Casper. With his victory, Palmer joined JoAnne Gunderson Carner as the only players to win three different USGA championships (Jack Nicklaus, Carol Semple Thompson, Tiger Woods and Jill McGill have since accomplished this feat).

In 1982, at Portland (Ore.) Golf Club, Miller Barber won the first of his three Senior Open titles. Barber shot a final-round 65 and set the 72-hole scoring record of 282. He also won the 1984 and 1985 championships.

Dale Douglass broke Barber's record in 1986 with a 72-hole score of 279. In 1987, Gary Player lowered Douglass's record by a remarkable nine strokes when he shot a 72-hole score of 270 at Brooklawn Country Club in Fairfield, Conn., to win. He was the only player to shoot four rounds in the 60s until Tom Weiskopf turned the trick in his 1995 victory on the Blue Course of Congressional Country Club in Bethesda, Md.

Don Pooley and Tom Watson staged the first three- or four-hole playoff in 2002, after the format was installed in 1999. Pooley won with a birdie on the fifth hole. His 63 in the third round was the lowest score in Senior Open history until Loren Roberts shot a 62 in the third round at Prairie Dunes Country Club, in Hutchinson, Kan., in 2005. Kirk Triplett and Brandt Jobe also carded 62s in the first and third rounds, respectively, of the 2017 Senior Open at Salem Country Club, in Peabody, Mass.

Kenny Perry became the sixth player to win multiple U.S. Senior Opens in 2017 with a then championship scoring record of 16-under 264. He joined Barber, Player, Nicklaus, Hale Irwin and Allen Doyle on the list of multiple winners. Steve Stricker would shatter Perry's scoring standard with a winning total of 261 (19 under) in 2018 at The Warren Golf Course at Notre Dame, in South Bend, Ind.

U.S. Open champions have performed extremely well in the U.S. Senior Open, winning 11 of the 44 championships. U.S. Open champions who have also won the Senior Open are Arnold Palmer (1960 U.S. Open; 1981 Senior Open), Billy Casper (1959, 1966 U.S. Open; 1983 Senior Open), Gary Player (1965 U.S. Open; 1987, 1988 Senior Open), Orville Moody (1969 U.S. Open; 1989 Senior Open), Lee Trevino (1968, 1971 U.S. Open; 1990 Senior Open), Jack Nicklaus (1962, 1967, 1972, 1980 U.S. Open; 1991, 1993 Senior Open), Hale Irwin (1974, 1979, 1990 U.S. Open; 1998, 2000 Senior Open) and Jim Furyk (2003 U.S. Open; 2021 Senior Open)

In 2020, the U.S. Senior Open was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Bernhard Langer became the oldest winner of the championship in 2023 when he won at age 65. It was his second U.S. Senior Open title but first in 13 years. He and Padraig Harrington (2022, 2025) are the seventh and eighth players, respectively, to win the championship at least twice.
