South Africa Wins the 2025 Championship

The final round of the World Amateur Team Championship at Tanah Merah Country Club served as a coronation round for South Africa, which finished 29-under 547, eight strokes ahead of silver-medalist Australia en route to its first victory in the championship and first podium finish in over 40 years. England earned its first bronze medal in the competition, finishing two strokes behind Australia.

“Yeah, just elated. Really proud. The guys played unbelievable golf the whole week. It’s just been such a great experience being here,” said Gavin Groves, South Africa’s captain. “This has been a long time coming...it’s been a lot of near misses, a lot of very talented teams.”

World No. 6 Christiaan Maas led the way for his country all week long, carding four rounds in the 60s and registering just three bogeys across the 72 holes of play to finish 10 strokes clear on the individual leader board as well. His pace steadied in the final round, recording a 3-under 69 after rounds of 66-66-65 across the first three days of competition.

“I’m relieved, happy. It’s nice to see that my game can travel. It’s a long flight over here, different conditions,” said Maas, who was the third-highest ranked player in the field this week. “It’s a long week. I think building a lead, everybody thinks it’s all happy, but it also comes with a lot of pressure...Being in a team event, it can quickly go the other way.”

Teammate Daniel Bennett, who also plays alongside Maas at the University of Texas, added an even-par 72 to Maas’ final-round 69, giving South Africa a final-round, 3-under 141. Charl Barnard posted 5-over 77, which marked his fourth non-counting score of the week.

“I’m just happy to have such a good team,” Barnard said. “It really meant a lot for me this week [to represent South Africa]. It’s something that I can look back at when I’m done and be proud to be a part of.”

The Australians were led on Saturday afternoon by Declan O’Donovan, the reigning Canadian Amateur champion, and Harry Takis, who won this year’s Singapore Open Amateur Championship by 11 strokes. O’Donovan finished second in the individual scoring at 12-under 276 after posting a final-round, 3-under 69, while Takis added a 69 of his own to the team’s final-round total of 138.

It marked a 10-shot improvement from Takis’ third-round 79 and the Australians’ third consecutive round of 6 under par.

“I went home last night, and coaches had a chat with me about keeping my head up and trying to do what I do best, and I did that today,” said Takis, who will return to Singapore to compete in the Singapore Open in November. “It’s always an honor to represent your country... we don’t take it for granted.”

The Englishmen were led by Eliot Baker in the final round, who posted a 5-under 67 for his best individual performance of the week. Charlie Forster contributed a 2-under 70 for a team 7-under 137, while Tyler Weaver posted a non-counting 73. The trio, who represented GB&I in the Walker Cup Match at Cypress Point in September, finished the championship 19-under 557.

“It was a big goal of the year to be picked for this team,” said Baker, the reigning Scottish Men’s Open champion. “It’s nice to come out here and put this performance in. Slow first few days for myself but finally got it going today.”

Defending champion USA was in position to become the first American team to finish outside of the top 10 in the history of the Eisenhower Trophy after a 6-over 150 in the first round landed it T-32 with Panama. The Americans battled back, posting three consecutive rounds of 5-under 139 to finish T-10 with Japan at 9-under 567 for the championship.

Host country Singapore finished T-18 with Norway after posting 4-under 572 for the championship, its best finish in 15 appearances. In the final round, it was 18-year-old Brayden Lee who led the way with a 3-under 69 after tallying four birdies against a single bogey. Hiroshi Tai carded a 1-under 71, while Troy Storm posted a second consecutive round of even par after starting the week with a 12-over 84 in Round 1.

Quotable - Gavin Groves, South Africa Captain: “[The conversations were] very much to keep it going, keep the same rhythm, same routine, same recovery, same processes. I know that [Christiaan] Maas had iron in his hand on the first tee, and then he put it away and hit the driver and I said to him, ‘I was going to kill you if you hit iron off the tee.’ So, it was very much just to keep going with what worked, and it obviously worked.

Daniel Bennett, South Africa: “It’s a pretty incredible first time, we’ve got such a great group around us, and we are very thankful to everyone back home and all the support we’ve had... [Christiaan] Maas has been playing good all week, and we just needed one other good score.”

Notable - Christian Maas’ 72-hole score of 266 ties the second-lowest individual mark in championship history. France’s Victor Perez, Australia’s Lucas Herbert and Argentina’s Alejandro Tosti all recorded the same score in Japan in 2014, where Spain’s Jon Rahm set the lowest 72-hole total in championship history at 263.

South Africa’s previous best finish in the Eisenhower Trophy was its silver medal in 1980. Before that, its only podium finishes were bronze in 1970 and 1972.

In 33 appearances, the Australians have won 15 medals, the most of any country outside of the USA.

England’s bronze medal on Saturday was its second podium finish, and it now owns two medals as a country in the Eisenhower Trophy, having earned silver in 2016.
